WHERE IS THE BEST PLACE TO GET VASOMEDITECH EECP TREATMENT?

Heal your heart EECP is the unit of vaso-meditech private limited. Who are pioneers of EECP treatment India. We brought this EECP treatment to india couple of year back probably around 6-7years back, and vaso-meditech not only involved in starting up a EECP treatment centers, also involved in clinical research and development of EECP product as well as the clinical indications.

Whenever starting the EECP centers we need a professional to train the therapists and physicians who are going to be involved in day to day patients care. We are the pioneer not only in providing treatment. We are also providing the training for therapist and the physician who are involved in the patient care. So the optimal level of treatment depends upon the training which we provided to the therapist.

The treatment is almost 60% controlled by system itself, and 40% of patient efficacy of improvement is achieved by the qualified physician and therapist. How and when the timing at which the cuffs to inflates and deflates in perfect synchronizing with your heart rate has been taught in a intensive training not only with day to day patient care and also by a simulation software. All this trainings are providing for more than 2month for physician and therapist to achieve the level of competence.

Then only they can take care of the patients effectively, and also improve the patient's clinical outcome. We also started up multiple Centers across India. Heal your heart is currently running in three states, and also we are establishing the franchise unit in Kerala as we are going to start up multiple units and also in many part of the country.

So all these centers are not only employ a qualified physician and therapist, also have a web based control system, Where all the patients data base are pooled in to singlesource.

It is reviewed by interventional and also cardio-thoracic surgeon, to make sure EECP is a right treatment for these patients and in case of any requirements for other procedure also we do a counselling to the patient, explain about the treatment its benefits and expectations. So with all this involvement we believe heal your heart EECP is best treatment option for any patients not only with angina and also for heart failure.
